Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Public Consultation on the Textile Labelling Regulation (EU) 1007/2011

About this consultation

Consultation period: December 2023 – March 2024

Topic: Textile

Target audience

This consultation relates to textile and related products, meaning leather products, apparel and clothing accessories (even if made of other materials, such as leather or fur) as well as textile, leather and/or fur interior/household products, except for footwear products (which are governed by Directive 94/11/EC and the review of which is not currently planned).

This public consultation is aimed at: European consumers of textile and related products; companies producing such products, including fibre, yarn or fabric producers as well as companies producing their raw input materials and companies processing them; businesses associations; intermediate and final product manufacturers; importers; distributors; brands and retailers; e-commerce platforms; managers of products such as waste; representatives of ministries and public authorities; national regulators; certification bodies; testing laboratories; academic and research organisations; and non-governmental organisations (NGOs), including environmental protection organisations, consumer organisations and social organisations.

Why we are consulting

We are consulting to collect evidence on the importance and effectiveness of the Textile Labelling Regulation \(EU\) 1007/2011 (the Regulation). We would also like to gather opinions on the issues and potential policy options to address current gaps in the rules, including by expanding labelling to relevant domains and products not currently covered. The results of this consultation will inform the evaluation of the Regulation and the impact assessment on its possible revision.

Responding to the questionnaire

You can contribute to this consultation by filling in the online questionnaire. If you are unable to use the online questionnaire, please contact us: GROW-G1@ec.europa.eu

Questionnaires will be made available in all official EU languages. You can submit your responses in any official EU language.

You can pause any time and continue later. You can download your contribution once you have submitted your answers.

For reasons of transparency, organisations and businesses taking part in public consultations are asked to register in the EU's Transparency Register.

A summary report will be published on the consultation page after the survey closes. This consultation builds on the call for evidence on the Regulation, which was launched on the 3rd of August 2023 and closed on the 30th September 2023. The responses to the call for evidence will also inform the evaluation and impact assessment.

Introduction

The EU's textiles regulatory and policy framework faces the challenge to address the environmental impacts and social sustainability of this economic sector within the context of the Green Deal and the Circular Action Plan objectives adopted in 2019 and 2020, respectively.

As a commitment under the Green Deal, the EU Sustainable and Circular Textiles strategy was adopted in 2022 to address the production and consumption of textiles while recognising the importance of the textiles sector. It emphasises the importance of promoting green and digital transitions in the textile and fashion sectors, setting out a framework and a vision for the transition of the textiles sector. It is being implemented through several initiatives.

The transition pathway is a key non-regulatory initiative in the strategy. It is a policy report, co-created with stakeholders, identifying 50 specific actions to make the textiles ecosystem greener, more digital and to ensure its long-term resilience and competitiveness. Stakeholders are encouraged to submit commitments to implement the pathway.

Among the regulatory initiatives, the planned revision of the Regulation stands at a crossroads along with several other initiatives.

The Regulation applies to textile products and products with textile components made up of at least 80% by weight of textile fibres. It contains rules on the:

- labelling and marking of the fibre composition of textile products;
- labelling or marking of textile products containing non-textile parts of animals; and
- determination of the fibre composition of textile products, including of textile fibre mixtures.

Thank you for your participation.

Q6. You can explain your answers to question 5 here:

1000 character(s) maximum

Onderzoek ("kledinglabels: nauwkeurig of niet", door Circle Economy) naar de nauwkeurigheid van samenstellingdeclaraties op kledinglabels toont aan dat er reden is tot twijfel over de informatie op labels, met name voor textielproducten die bestaan uit meer dan één vezeltype. Onnauwkeurige samenstellingdeclaraties op labels hebben momenteel weinig gevolgen voor de consumentenveiligheid, maar resulteren wel in oneerlijke concurrentie en verminderend consumentenvertrouwen in labels.

Daarnaast ondervinden kledingmerken en -handelaren geen (publieke) repercussies als gevolg van onnauwkeurige labels. Uniforme richtlijnen zouden producenten kunnen ondersteunen in het gebruik van accurate kwaliteitscontrolemechanismen, waar de samenstelling van producten op gebaseerd kan worden. Daarnaast is handhaving en controle essentieel om te voorzien in accurate labels. Dit kan de afwijking tussen de geclaimde samenstelling en de daadwerkelijke samenstelling van het textielproduct minimaliseren.

Q7. To what extent have the harmonised EU rules to provide information on textile fibre content on product labels brought benefits compared to the possibility of differing rules on textile labelling in the legislation of Member States ?

- To a large extent
- To a moderate extent
- To a limited extent
- Not at all
- Don't know / no opinion

Q8. Do you think textile labelling should continue to be governed at EU level?

- Yes
- To a large extent, with some additional rules from EU/EEA Member States
- To a limited extent, with key rules introduced by EU/EEA Member States
- No – the Regulation should be repealed
- Don't know / no opinion

B. Regulating textile labels – problem definition

Q9. To what extent do the following developments in the textile sector make current rules outdated?

	To a large extent	To some extent	To a limited extent	Not at all	Don't know

Q10. If other, please specify

300 character(s) maximum

Het toenemende gebruik van niet-verenigbare labels (vaak polyester) is een ontwikkeling. Het is arbeidsintensief om niet-verenigbare labels te verwijderen. Verder vormen deze labels vaak een vervuilende belemmering voor recycling. We pleiten voor labels uit hetzelfde materiaal als het product zelf.

Q11. You can explain your answers to question 9 here:

1000 character(s) maximum

In de herziening van de verordening dient meer aandacht uit te gaan naar de enorme groei van de fast-fashion industrie en bijhorende relatie tot duurzaamheid (ecologische en sociale duurzaamheid). De kledingindustrie zou transparanter moeten worden over de keten, waarbij meer prioriteit wordt gegeven aan consuminderen en de levensduurverlenging van textiel dat op de huidige markt in de omloop is.

Een consument die via een label correct geïnformeerd wordt over bijv. de levensduur, % gerecycled materiaal, aanwezigheid microplastics, impact op biodiversiteit, CO2 voetafdruk, watergebruik, reparatie mogelijkheden en/of informatie over sociale verantwoordelijk bij productie van het textielproduct, zal worden ondersteund in het maken van een duurzame aankoopbeslissing.

Daarnaast geldt dat wanneer bedrijven weten dat deze informatie openbaar wordt, het hen mogelijk zal stimuleren om meer aandacht te besteden aan hoe zij textiel op een verantwoorde wijze op de markt kunnen aanbieden.

Q12. Currently, in the EU there are no harmonised labelling rules for the following domains of textile products and textile related products. To what extent do you consider it a problem for the functioning of the EU/EEA single market and for making informed consumer decisions?

	To a large extent	To some extent	To a limited extent	Not at all	Don't know

We willen graag de aanwezigheid van gerecyclede vezels van zowel open als gesloten lus oorsprong aan deze lijst toevoegen. Informatie waaruit blijkt dat het textielproduct gerecyclede vezels bevat, kan bijdragen aan het maken van een geïnformeerde (en duurzame) aankoopbeslissing.

De consument heeft recht op juiste informatie om een goed geïnformeerde keuze te kunnen maken bij de aankoop van een textielproduct. Hiervoor is het van belang om uniforme richtlijnen te hanteren en streng op de naleving hiervan te handhaven.

Daarnaast kan een textiellabel dat informatie verschaft over bijhorende impact op milieu en maatschappij bij de productie en consumptie van het textielproduct, bedrijven ook stimuleren om transparanter te zijn over de impact van hun kleding, waar het vandaan komt, waar het van is gemaakt is, et cetera. De huidige textiellabels zijn beperkend in de informatie die ze meegeven aan de consument. Wij steunen uniforme, geharmoniseerde duurzaamheidslabels voor textiel en aanverwante producten.

Verder is het van belang dat het textielproduct aan de veiligheidsvereisten voldoet en dat gerecycled materiaal ook veilig is en blijft voor de mens.

Q15. Are there any other aspects that you would like to mention?

Er zal een koppeling nodig zijn tussen het textiellabel (voortkomend uit de herziening van de Textile Labelling Regulation), het digitale productpaspoort en de informatie eisen voor textiel die onder de Ecodesign wetgeving verplicht worden gesteld. Het is belangrijk om te zorgen dat al deze Europese trajecten goed op elkaar aansluiten en complementair zijn aan elkaar. Dit is wat ons betreft een belangrijk aandachtspunt.

We kunnen ons voorstellen dat het label de belangrijkste informatie in relatie tot milieu prestatie op hoofdlijnen laat zien, terwijl het digitale productpaspoort verschillende doelgroepen voorziet van uitgebreide informatie in relatie tot de gehele levenscyclus van het product.

Het kabinet ziet de Europese Product Environmental Footprint methode als een geschikt middel om textielproducten op een vergelijkbare, betrouwbare en begrijpelijke manier te voorzien van een milieuscore. Wanneer de Product Environmental Footprint Category Rules voor de productgroepen "Apparel and Footwear" worden vastgesteld, kan de PEF methode worden gebruikt om textiel en aanverwante producten te vergelijken in milieu-impact. Deze milieuscore kan vervolgens worden weergegeven op een textiellabel. Een toelichting bij deze informatie kan worden verschaft door middel van het onderliggende digitale productpaspoort. Het digitale productpaspoort zou dieper kunnen ingaan op de eigenschappen van het textielproduct, inclusief bijvoorbeeld een onderbouwing van de milieu score zoals vermeld op het textiellabel.

C. Regulating textile labels – the future

This section refers to identifying potential solutions to the potential problems.

Q16. To what extent would the following measures enable the functioning of the EU /EEA single market and support consumers in making informed purchasing decisions?

	To a large extent	To some extent	To a limited extent	Not at all	Don't know

Introducing language-independent labelling information (through symbols or codes)	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Broadening the scope of the Regulation to all apparel products and clothing accessories (including to non-textiles)	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Broadening the scope of the Regulation to leather and fur interior / household products	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

We zouden ook graag aandacht willen vragen voor het feit dat fysieke labels van grote bedrijven die in meerdere/tot alle lidstaten verkopen, vaak uitgebreide labels gebruiken met informatie in alle talen van die lidstaten waar ze in actief zijn. Dit nodigt de consument niet uit tot het lezen van deze labels. Daarom zou het goed kunnen zijn om naast het label, met een additionele QR-code te werken, die je naar passende informatie in je eigen taal brengt.

Daarnaast rest ons de vraag hoe de informatie-eisen die voor textiel onder de Ecodesign-wetgeving worden gesteld, zich zullen verhouden tot de herziening van de Textile Labelling Regulation. Wij vinden het belangrijk dat deze twee EU trajecten, die beide inzetten op informatie-eisen over de duurzaamheid van textiel, goed op elkaar aansluiten. Dit ook wegens de vrijwel parallelle uitwerking van beide trajecten. We willen ervoor waken dat onder deze herziening zaken worden ingeregeld die beter onder de Ecodesign wetgeving passen.

Q18. What would you be in favour of when it comes to physical and digital labelling for textile products and textile related products in enabling the functioning of the EU single market and supporting consumers in making informed purchasing decisions?

	To a large extent	To some extent	To a limited extent	Not at all	Don't know
Replacing the physical label with a digital label	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Introducing a digital label with additional information, supplementing the information on the physical label	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
Keeping only the physical label	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Q19. You can explain your answers to question 18 here:

Een fysiek label kan helpen bij het in één oogopslag duidelijk maken van de informatie die op het label vermeld staat. Mogelijk dat deze informatie sneller te lezen is door een eenvoudige manier van weergave (zoals symbolen/codes). Verder is een fysiek label toegankelijk voor diverse bevolkingsgroepen (denk aan mensen zonder telefoon of met onvoldoende digitale vaardigheden) en is het dus een inclusieve vorm van informatieverschaffing.

Toch pleit Nederland voor de ontwikkeling van een hybride vorm van het textiellabel. In lijn met de invoering van het digitale productpaspoort (DPP), lijkt het ons niet verstandig om enkel vast te houden aan een fysiek label. Het voordeel van het digitaal aanbieden van aanvullende informatie in een DPP, is dat toelichting kan worden gegeven bij de informatie die vermeld staat op het textiellabel. De digitale informatie dient goed gereguleerd te worden, bijvoorbeeld door de informatie-eisen die onder de Ecodesign wetgeving aan textiel gesteld worden.

Op de webpagina van deze Europese verordening staat vermeld: WHAT DOES THIS REGULATION DO? "It seeks to ensure that EU consumers are properly informed and that the EU clothing and textile market operates smoothly." Daaruit blijkt dat het label is bedoeld voor de consument en dus niet voor andere doelgroepen. We steunen deze gedachte.

Sorteerders zijn niet de doelgroep van deze verordening. Zij gebruiken de labels niet. Daarnaast zijn de labels vaak uit kleding verwijderd of onleesbaar geworden door het wassen tegen de tijd dat ze bij de sorteerder komen.

Het toegankelijk maken van informatie aan doelgroepen anders dan de consument, zoals sorteerders, zal naar verwachting worden geregeld door middel van het digitale productpaspoort.

Q29. Do you have anything to add on how labels for textile products and textile related products sold in the EU/EEA could be improved?

500 character(s) maximum

Nederland zet in op het hanteren van de PEF methode voor het textiellabel en hecht waarde aan het stellen van ambitieuze Ecodesign eisen voor circulair textiel. De Product Environmental Footprint (PEF) methode kan worden gebruikt om een levenscyclusanalyse uit te voeren voor de productgroepen "Apparel and Footwear". Hierdoor wordt het mogelijk om deze productgroepen te vergelijken op milieu impact. Door het opnemen van Ecodesign eisen zou je vervolgens kunnen sturen op deze milieu impact.
